CAD IT: business agreement established with Uni IT, a company belonging to the Gruppo UniCredito Italiano

CAD IT and Uni IT have established a business agreement aimed at marketing, to public bodies and Italian treasuries, a solution for the managing of orders of payment using a digital signature.

CAD IT SpA, leader in the production of information systems for the Italian financial sector, and Uni IT Srl, service company for data processing/transmission and administrative processing for Public Administration and Credit Institutions, have drawn up an agreement aimed at marketing a solution that allows Public bodies to manage orders of payment using a digital signature in order to eliminate costs related to paperwork.

The solution, which is completely independent to the software used by the Bodies and/or Treasuries, monitors and integrates, by means of special information technology panels, all the orders of payment phases, from the placing of a digital signature to the loading at the Treasuries and all the intermediary actions from confirming to the cancelling and/or transferring of an order.

The integrated offer consists of:

- a CAD IT software named Trf@web that transfers and regulates information technology flows between Treasuries and Bodies and vice versa, adapting itself to existing flows without having to modify the applications that use them;
- a Uni IT software named Mandato Informatico (Orders of payment) that allows the transmitting, receiving and elaborating of information technology documents in order to apply a digital signature and register them.

Each party can independently carry out marketing activities with the aim of supplying services through the Uni IT data centre or of assigning temporary or permanent user licences by installing the product on the customer's Data centre.

The President of CAD IT, Giuseppe Dal Cortivo, said: "Collaboration with a partner of such high standing such as Uni IT, in the field of orders of payment, allows us to satisfy the market needs of Public Bodies and treasury banks with an integrated and complete procedure, not only considering the product, but also the service."

Lucio Chiricozzi, the President of Uni IT, said: "This agreement with a leading company in the Italian financial software sector, including the management of Treasury Services for Public Bodies, will enable us to launch our products onto the market more quickly."
